What the Kidneys do.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

I. N. Snell, living on Cottage St., Norway, Me., says: "Prior to using Doan's Kidney Pills I suffered from kidney trouble for a long time. There was a pain through my back, almost constantly, the secretions were irregular in action and caused me great annoyance. Some few months ago Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended that I went to Stone's drug store and procured a box. Since using them I have been feeling a great deal better than before in over a year. My kidneys show more strength and are regular in action and secretions give me no little trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and no other.

A Sly Naughty Trick of the Moon

One evening when I was a bashful young man I strolled with a maid down a green pasture

I was longing to ask her one question, you know.

But the moon in the moon kept looking at me so And the daisies were peeping from soft beds of green;

So whatever I did I was sure to be seen. A whip-poor-will chanted his old-fashioned

And a little cloud covered the eyes of the moon And I stole just one sip from the true lover's spoon.

But he peeped out and caught me most awfully soon. "Twas a sly, naughty trick of the moon.

Chorus, All the frogs, in a chorus, they crooned; And the clouds they were dotted by the moon. All the world was asleep;

But the moon played ho-peep. "Twas a sly, naughty trick of the moon.

The frogs and the crickets are still by and by; The fun-loving daisies in slumberland lie; The stars brightly twinkle while all the world sleeps.

There the eyes but those up above to peep. While I hold in my arms the girl I love best Those eyes in the sky seem to never take rest.

With a swoon to my lips, though I really do not care, The moon might go on with his cold icy stare;

But he dodges the clouds with a twitting bob. While the soft breeze sighs through the willows the weep. At the sly, naughty tricks of the moon.

THE DREAMER.

Written for the Advertiser.

We Who Have Roamed.

We, who have roamed the woodland trails, All summer 'neath an azure sky, Justly boasting our days we knew

Were passing too swiftly by. We, who have lived to the whip-or-will, The cuckoo and the hermit thrush, We shall be glad when the days grow chill

To remember the days of our youth. We who have strolled in the cool dim shade Of the forest in sweet content, And knew what the summer breeze said

To the trees and how much it meant. We, who have whispered our hopes and fears, And who have loved and been loved, We shall be glad when the coming years

Will tell us of our life so far. What I remember, will you forget? The days we have found so fair? The perfect days bearing no regret,

Not whistling down the chimney and bright as the rays of the morning sun, Sweet as the evening dew, And the days I have shared with you.

CORA M. W. GREENLEAF.

Nothing Like Maine.

This is what one man says about the Maine woods.

Why spend money at the seashore when the State of Maine is still on the map and her great forests and inland waters are still with her? The name, the "Pine Tree" State conveys no idea of Maine except that it is one of the 48 stars on the flag and it grows pine trees.

Horace Greeley's advice should be changed so as to read, "All ye that are weary from ten months faithful labor, fly each year to the woods of Maine and ye shall find rest."

This is my first visit to a northern Maine camp and little did I imagine that this place or any other like it would be sought after. But it is, and will continue to be, so long as the forests stand and the waters flow.

I shall advise my friends to keep away from the seashore but strike for the Maine woods at once and meet the fish, bear, moose, birds and deer, the mountains, the hills, the rocks, the wild flowers, the stream and the great pine trees, silk dresses and patent leather shoes, but a flannel shirt, a cast off dress, a pair of shoes and the other ordinary necessities and you are in the height of fashion as required by Dame Nature.

You can have a state water bath at home with a little salt, some water and a bath tub, but you can't get the delightful, cool Maine breeze and a swim in the deep blue mountain water.

People are just beginning to find out that the fall and the winter and the spring in Maine are just as charming each in its own different way as the summer, and are long the seekers for rest and pleasure in "Maine's glorious climate" will demand camps and hotels for all the year instead of the flimsy affairs that they have heretofore occupied a few weeks in summer.

Piazza parties are favorite amusements both for day and evening, particularly when the sun is pouring his merciless rays down upon one's head. Then the cool retreats with the great rocking chairs or luxurious hammocks tempt us to give up fishing and tramping and enjoy the sweetness of doing nothing.

They Prayed Running.

Harry and Ethel were crossing a field on their way to the South school, when they encountered a bull. At the animal's approach they fled in terror. Faster and faster they ran, yet nearer and nearer came the bull.

"You do it," pleaded Harry. "We'll kneel right down here."

"No, we'll pray running. You ought to do it; you're a girl."

"O Lord! O Lord!" sobbed Ethel. "You do it!"

The proximity of the bull demanded immediate action, and Harry rose to the occasion. Loud and fervently he prayed:

O Lord, for what we are about to receive make us truly thankful!"

—Success.

Socialist Meeting at North Paris.

Socialist meeting was held Friday night by the Rev. A. J. Parker in the chapel. The address was delivered by George A. England, Socialist candidate for Congress in the 2d District. Mr. England spoke for over an hour, the issues of the campaign, the trust question, the unequal distribution of wealth, the unemployed problem and the subject of public ownership. After the meeting a number of questions were asked and answered.

South Chatham, N. H. The Summer School of Cookery under the direction of Mrs. Janet Macomber Hill, the editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine, has just completed its fifth season, ending with a reception to invited friends. The day being exceptionally fine, afforded a pleasant trip for those coming from out of town, whether by bicycle, carriage or automobile.

The view from the summer residence of Mrs. Hill was ideal, the charming combination of mountain, valley and the Kimball lakes making a picture of rare beauty not easily forgotten by the guests.

The house was tastefully decorated by the students, who served ices, delicious cakes and candies of their own making to their guests.

The summer classes are very interesting in bringing together students and teachers from many parts of the country, those of the class just breaking up having their homes in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Illinois, Washington, D. C., and California.

SOUTH RUMFORD. Henry Thurston has been very sick with liver trouble but is gaining now.

Herbert Hall was visiting in Boston and vicinity the first week in August.

Wallace Clark, who is 84 years old, is not in his usual good health this summer.

George Pye has been very sick and unable to work in the sulphite mill since July 23d.

Mrs. Francis Hutchins has returned to her daughter's, Mrs. Wallie Clark's, after a few weeks' visit with her son, James Hutchins, at West Bethel.

G. T. and R. L. Thurston bought the hay on the McKean farm in Franklin Annex. Charles Farnum bought the hay on the Walker estate at Rumford Corner.

Mrs. Edith Elliott Thurston and two children, Harold and Robert, of South Boston, Mass., are visiting at their grandmother's, Mrs. Lavina Elliott's at Rumford Center, and Mrs. Thurston's father's, George Elliott's at Zircon, from July 25th till the first of September.

Arthur Putnam and Frank Knapp were at Augusta with the militia last week. Mr. Knapp is a corporal in the Rumford Falls band and Mr. Putnam belongs to the militia. David Knapp of Norway is stopping on the farm he has purchased on Hall Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Berton Fernald of Boston, Mass., are spending their annual vacation with Mrs. Fernald's relatives in Rumford. Aug. 10th they went to the Four Ponds with their nephew, Jeff. Thomas, and family of Virginia. They return to Boston, Aug. 16th.

SOUTH HARRISON. Clara Spaulding is not very well.

Mrs. R. W. Fogg is on the sick list. George Dewitt has got able to ride out. Addie Johnson has gone to the village, nursing.

Frank Chaplin did Orin Ross' haying for him.

Rena Buck has visited her sister, Ruth Brett, in Ouisfield.

Mrs. Eliza Adams of Oxford is visiting relatives around here.

Warrie Johnson has gone to Boothbay Harbor to work in a hotel.

Ellen Rich of Poland has been visiting her niece, Mrs. Frank Chaplin.

Herman Thompson and wife have visited at Charles Batchelder's in Naples.

Mrs. Viola Gerry and Mrs. Josiah Strout visited at A. C. Buck's one afternoon.

George Buck went to North Bridgton to his aunt's, Mrs. George Green's, Saturday.

Mrs. Herbert Noble's two nieces of Raymond are visiting her and Mrs. Reuben Gilkey.

Mrs. Viola Gerry of Raymond has been visiting her brother, Josiah Strout, and other relatives.

Rev. David True and wife recently visited at Herman Thompson's.

W. Fogg's, and other friends. He preached at the Methodist church the 26th in the afternoon.

Women who have far passed middle life may look delicious in old rose, china blue, and above all in sumptuous white materials. Fanple, too, which as far as utility goes, can quite well hold its own with black, makes charming gowns for day and evening wear, for any shade of purple—the most intense plum to a most delicate lavender—is admirable with white hair. Soft greens are most becoming and indeed any of the old picturesque shades which we associate with the grand dame of the past.

All these old-fashioned shades being in vogue at present—old blue, rose, coral soft green and buff—the woman over 50 may well and appropriately affect any of them in her toilet.

A Letter from D. Cromett Clark.

Somehow or other, my letter telling you that I had come to Portsmouth must have missed connections. Please change the address of the ADVERTISER from Augusta to care of Herald, Portsmouth, N. H., and send me a couple of back numbers—the last two in July—and I will proceed to read them and find out what is doing in old Oxford county.

I see Dr. Charles E. Johnston here frequently, for he is "in" on the city board of health, and is trying hard to do something and appears to be in a fair way to require the dislike of some of the people who don't feel willing to go to the effort and expense of making their places safe for their neighbors. He has done some good things and obtained some good results in the last six weeks since he was put on the board, but as yet it is only a beginning.

One of the features of the board of health, which here is that it has the enforcement of New Hampshire's new law requiring fire escapes on all hotels and lodging houses of three stories or more in height, and the attorney general has ruled that attic counts as a story within the meaning of that law. It is doubtless unhealthful to fall from a third-story window, hence this work was put upon the board of health.

Probably there are a goodly number of Oxford county people in this city, but I don't know where to find them. They are a good deal more likely to find me sitting at the desk and steering the copy on its triumphant way to the composing room.

Anybody who mentions the subject takes it for granted that Col. Quincy of Laconia, with whom you are likely to be acquainted, will be the next governor of the Granite state, though Roscoe W. Pillsbury, owner of the Manchester Union, is making a strenuous fight for the Republican nomination which is understood to mean the election.

A Young Progressive Farmer.
Harold Wentworth, who but a few days ago entered upon his ninth year, holds in his make-up the promise of a progressive farmer. Some time in July just past, when the peas of the Wentworth garden had refused a further supply for the table, Harold asked permission to pull up the vines which being readily given he proceeded to uproot the withered remains, saving the peas which had gone to seed which he planted in place of the matured crop.
Now the lad is delightedly watching the growth of a new crop already well above ground and with a reasonable expectation of its fruitage should the summer not prove abnormally short.

Will Roberts has treated his buildings to a new coat of paint.

William E. Munkland of Taunton, Mass., has returned to Taunton from visit of some days with Mr. and Mrs. D.
B. Hill.

Roy Hill of the Green Hill neighborhood, 12 years of age, shot a hen hawk on the wing, measuring three feet from tip to tip.

Annie M. Andrews of Providence, R.
I. is with her parents at her old home,
East Conway street, spending a few weeks' vacation.

H. Andrews and S. Evans are reported to have bought a large tract of land in Chatham, N. H., being part of the estate of the late Ithiel Clay of that town.

Eloise Gerry and young lady friends of Boston are making a stay of a few weeks at the summer home of William Gordon Gerry. Mr. Gordon will also be at his home here.

Everett Thompson of Boston, who has been among friends at Kezar pond also visited his brother, George Thompson

CASCO.

Members Added to the Church.
On Sunday, July 26, a very appropriate sermon was preached at the Casco Free Baptist Church by Rev. J. L. Monroe of Quincy, Mass., a former pastor, and at the close of the service assisted by the present pastor, Rev. Lyman Rollins of Cobb Divinity School, he led six happy persons down into the beautiful waters of Pleasant pond and there administered the ordinance of baptism. During the evening service several persons were received as members of the Free Baptist church, followed by a very impressive communion service.

Sunday, Aug. 2, two more were baptized and taken into the church.

EAST SWEDEN.

Oscar Kimball went to Paris with a load of hogs, calves, etc., for McIntire.
Mr. and Mrs. D. Truman of Norway have been on a visit at her father's, C. O.
Kimball's.

H. H. Bisbee has been putting in a new slip for logs at his mill. Mr. Bisbee had the misfortune to lose a horse.

Hay crop has fallen behind the average quite a little, and feed in pastures is very short. Worms and grasshoppers have been too plenty for the good of the farmers in this section this year.

LYNCHVILLE.

urday and Sunday.

WATERFORD.

Rev. Edwin A. Rumball, since he has been in Rochester, N. Y., has published a book, "Christ and Modern Religion," which sells for 75 cents per copy. See ad in this paper.

EAST STONEHAM.

The Worm Pest.
The worms are still doing great work in Stoneham and Albany. The trees in some places are entirely stripped of their foliage. The oak worm is a large worm from 2 to 3 inches long and light gray in color.
There is still another new worm I have noticed on the plants in my yard. Its color is brown and is covered with white fur. I picked seven from one plant.

Frank McAllister is on the sick list.
Blueberries are plenty on Albany Mountain.

Lennie Files is working for Harry Mc-Keon of North Stoneham.

Levi Butters and John Grover are out twice a week with their meat cart.

Clarence Files has been helping his father, J. C. Files with his haying.

Fernando McAllister and wife and son
Merton went to Norway Saturday.

News was received that Freddie, the 15 year old son of Fred H. Libby of Haverhill, formerly of Paris, was drowned in the Merrimack river, July 30. He was in bathing and stepped off into a deep hole where several boys have been drowned. He was buried in Lawrence, Mass.

Mrs. Charles Noble and Edith Palmer recently drove to George Willard's, Oxford, and lunched at the house to a post which he at once pulled up, starting to run away, running over the post in such a way that one leg was nearly broken. Fortunately the horse was stopped by a neighbor so no damage was done excepting lameness to the horse.

Campmeetings will soon be on the stage of action.

Birds Through an Opera Glass.

Florence A. Merriam in "Birds Through an Opera Glass," says: "When you begin to study the birds in the fields and woods, to guard against scaring the wary, you should make yourself as much as possible a part of the landscape. . . . The observation of a few simple rules will help you to be unobtrusive. . . . First—Avoid light or bright-colored clothing. . . . Second—Walk slowly and noiselessly. . . . Among the crisp, rattling leaves of the woods, a bit of moss or an old log will often deaden your step at the critical moment. . . . Third—Avoid all quick, jerky motions. . . . How many birds I have scared away by raising my glass too suddenly! . . . Fourth—Avoid all talking or speak only in soft undertones. . . . Fifth—If the bird was singing, but stops at your approach, stand still a moment and encourage him by answering his call. If he gets interested he will often let you creep up within opera-glass distance. . . . Some of the most charming snapshots of friendly talk will come at such times. . . . Sixth—Make a practice of stopping often and standing perfectly still. In that way you hear voices that would be lost if you were walking. . . . A low tramp comes to the spot without noticing you when they would fly away in advance if they were to see or hear you coming toward them. . . . Seventh—Conceal yourself by leaning against a tree, or pulling a branch down in front of you. The best way of it is to select a good place and sit there quietly for several hours, to see what will come. Then you get at the home life of the birds, not merely seeing them when they are on their guard. . . . A low tramp in a raspberry patch, and a log in an alder swamp prove most profitable seats. . . . In going to look for birds it is important to consider the time of day, and the weather. Birds usually follow the sun. . . . During heavy winds and storms you are most likely to find birds well under cover of the woods, no matter at what time of day; and then, often on the side opposite that from which the wind comes. . . . In clear weather be sure to get between the sun and your bird. In the wrong light a scarlet tanager or a bluebird will look as black as a crow. Let your eyes rest on the trees before you, and if a least sits or a twig sways, you will soon discover your bird. At a little distance it is well to gaze through your glass."

PARIS HILL.

As so many of the men players of the club were away, the tournament for mixed foursomes, which was to have been held last Saturday, was postponed and an approaching contest substituted.

This was won by Miss J. B. Cole and Arthur Shaw. The postponed tournament was held Monday and Tuesday this week and won by Arthur Shaw and Raymond Atwood. The golf club tea this week will be given at The Beeches instead of the club house. The contest will be a putting match on the clock golf green at The Beeches. The man with a silo and a large field of corn to put into it has the inside track this year. Corn withstands a drought the best of all crops.

The Unfortunate Love Affairs

Of John Wesley.

Some of John Wesley's matrimonial ventures are in the Gentleman Magazine from which we extract the following: "My brother" says Charles Wesley, "was, I think, born for the benefit of knaves." The story of some of John Wesley's love affairs supports this opinion. His first love was a Miss Betty Kirkman, about whom he speaks with fervor: "On this spot she sat; 'Along this path she walked.' " Here she showed that lovely instance of condescension which gave new beauty to the charming arbor and meadows."

About the year afterward Wesley formed another attachment, this time with a Miss Sophia Hopkey. "Miss Sophia," as he called her, made herself very agreeable, even laying aside all gaudy attire, which he disliked, and being content with the simple and the revivalist thought that he liked for "Sophy," he was so little in love that he laid the matter before the elders of the Moravian church. They replied, "We advise you to proceed no further in this business."

Deep Sea Fishing Party.

Thirty-two joined the deep sea fishing party, Saturday, that was arranged by Harry Bridge. Part of the crowd gathered at the Norway station to take the early morning train, while others took the train at South Paris. After arriving at their destination they all went to find the boat which was to convey them to the briny deep.

A two-masted schooner was arranged for the party and all began to find a place on the boat to put their luggage. The trip out was a pleasant one for some. About half a dozen shocked clams, while others were leaning over the rail entertaining (?) themselves in feeding the fish. After getting 12 or 15 miles off of land the captain cast anchor and the fishing began.

Fish of numerous kinds were caught. Three prizes were put up—for the largest, next to the largest, and the smallest. The largest fish was a 19 lb. pool caught by Arthur B. Hart of the ADVERTISER. The prize was $1.50. The second largest fish was caught by Walter Chase of South Paris, this fish being a 16 lb. pollock. The second prize was $1.00. The bobby prize was awarded to Dr. L. Hall Truitt of Norway for catching (we thought) the most peculiar looking fish, in fact it was the largest fish caught, but the contest was an estate fish. He received the prize of 40 cents. The fish was a large skate.

At noon a fish chowder which was prepared by one of the crew was served. Some didn't care for it, while others ate it heartily.

About 5 o'clock the party started for the run back to port. During the run back E. C. Green of South Paris took a picture of the crowd.

Just as the boat landed it began to rain, and then the crowd began to scatter, some going into stores, others going to the station and some stood in the doorways.

The late train carried the tired and seashore crowd back to their homes, some carrying the prizes of the day with them. The names of those who went are as follows:

Harry Bridge, Mgr., Jesse P. Edwards, Dr. L. Hall Truitt, Dr. Gerald Clifford, C. H. Lane, George Sweeney, A. W. Bridge, Guy Flint, Edward Rich, Frank LeRoy, Wallace Strickland, Harold Bennett, Walter Chase, E. C. Thompson, Arthur Morgan, P. W. Sanborn, Arthur B. Hart, Charley Harding, Ernest Crockett, George E. Crockett, Fencie Murch, E. L. Green, Harry Truitt, Ralph Hemingway, Benjamin Cobb, E. F. Stevens, E. J. Cairns, Walter Currier, Clayton Heath, John Wright.

The name of the boat was Fannie Bell, Peak's Island. The boat was in charge of Capt. Allie and Lester Allie and engineer C. F. Coffin.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Farewell Party.

Saturday evening and Sunday a party of young people were entertained at Bradhurst cottage with Mrs. Persis Swan chaperone. Saturday evening was devoted to a card pull and playing "Jenkins up," and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed. Sunday, boat and canoe trips were taken about the lake. Those present were:

Mrs. Persis Swan, Ethel Bradburn, Alice Holmes, Brookton, Mass., Ruth Holmes, Hazel Gammon, Frank Davis, Mechanic Falls, Margarette Swan, Eudalie Davis, Horace Gregg, Carl Leighton, Lee Templeton.

Monday morning the Misses Holmes returned to Brookton, Miss Gammon went to Mechanic Falls for a visit before returning home and Mr. Davis returned to his home at Mechanic Falls.

Aaron Yeaton is driving the spring water wagon for Yvonne Rich. James L. Finney and wife of Pleasant street, Auburn, left Saturday, for Sebago Lake, where they will stop for a short time at the Finney log cabin.

Judge William F. Jones and son, Otis, spent Sunday at Small Point with Mrs. Jones and daughter. The judge and Otis have been keeping house for several days.

C. L. Hathaway is regrading the lawn in front of his residence. It was lower than the street in places and the water standing there caused much annoyance in the spring.

Democratic Rally.

First Campaign Talk of the Season at Norway, Saturday.

Hon. A. S. Kimball, presided at the Democratic rally that was held at the Norway Opera House, Saturday afternoon. The Norway Brass band furnished music, playing a selection in front of the Opera House just before 2 o'clock, and were followed to the hall by a crowd that filled the seats of the floor of the hall.

On the stage besides the speakers, Hon. Obadiah Gardner, candidate for governor and Hon. D. J. McGillicuddy, candidate for congress, were Hon. A. S. Kimball, B. G. McIntire, Justin McIntire, A. E. Shurtlett and T. H. Sawin.

Mr. McGillicuddy, the first speaker, dealt almost entirely with national issues. He stated that he wanted to present the matter to them not as a Democrat but as a citizen, as one of the people regardless of politics. He hoped there were Republicans, Prohibitionists, Socialists and members of other parties present. He dealt with the tariff question at some length, showing that it was a question of great importance and for the interest of every man's welfare to look into it. If the lobbyists study day and night and Sundays to see how they can figure to get their hands in the people's pockets and put them into theirs. One of the old propositions of the other party that they still adhere to is that the tariff is for the benefit of laboring men.

Mr. McGillicuddy had official statistics with which he showed that on goods manufactured in foreign countries and shipped here the cost on various articles was from 19 to 38 per cent, while the tariff was 35 to 40 per cent. Still other figures were given to show that goods manufactured here were sold in foreign countries at a much cheaper price than they are here. He then took up the steel, beef and other trusts. It was shown that wages are not higher by the tariff as is claimed.

The wealth of the country is in the hands of a few. The laboring class work for small wages to pay profit on watered stock. The Democrats believe that the remedy lies in taking off or reducing the tariff on those articles that are sold in foreign countries cheaper than they are sold for here.

He closed by asking all to investigate the matter for themselves, not to take his word for it and not to take John Swasey's.

After the applause had ceased a gentleman in the audience arose and asked Mr. McGillicuddy if he reduced the tariff to such an extent that the trust magnates didn't like would they conduct their business in such a way to starve the people to it. The reply was that they had already done that to a large extent "but thank God we have just enough power left to put them out and let's do it while we have that power." This brought down the house.

Mr. Kimball then introduced Mr. Gardner, who began by telling a story of an old dorky who went to a neighbor's and made complaint that his wife was very extravagant. Asked to explain he said that on Monday she would ask him for one dollar, Tuesday for 50 cents, Wednesday 25 cents and so on through the week and it did it week after week.

After the month. Asked what she did with the money he replied that he didn't know for he hadn't given her any. Mr. Gardner said this would apply to his speech making. He then spoke highly of the Grange and the men who till the soil as the greatest wealth of the country. The farmers have the right to have a say in the government of the country.

State issues were taken up and Mr. Gardner stated that he didn't come before the people as a reformer, but as a standard bearer of the Democratic party which came to him entirely unsolicited. He didn't see how a vote for Fernald was a vote for Taft nor how a vote for Gardner was a vote for Bryan.

And to illustrate this stated that Fernald was an advocate of prohibition and opposed to resubmission, while Taft says that all forms of prohibitory law are against the spirit of the American people. He had heard of some saying that they couldn't support Gardner as he was for free rum. He wished to say that he was a thoroughly temperance man, never before for the past month the sales had amounted to $220 and there wasn't as far as he knew any epidemic. He believed heartily in resubmission as he considered it the wisest and best plan to handle the question and get it out of politics. The good done by the prohibitory law is offset by the evil.

Taxation, economy in public expenditures and other questions were handled in an efficient manner.

After the speech was a large number remained to meet the speakers. Mrs. Gardner was with Mr. Gardner, who with Mr. McGillicuddy were conveyed by automobile to Bethel where they spoke in the evening.

Norway Municipal Court.

The hearing in the case of Otto Hekkinen, who was charged with stabbing Yusi Koibonem at Greenwood July 22, which was continued from Friday, July 31, was held at the court room last Friday. Hekkinen was found guilty and given a sentence of $5 and costs and ten days in jail and for non-payment $30 additional. He was committed. The fact that the man who was stabbed was the aggressor, influenced the court to give a lighter sentence than would have otherwise been done.

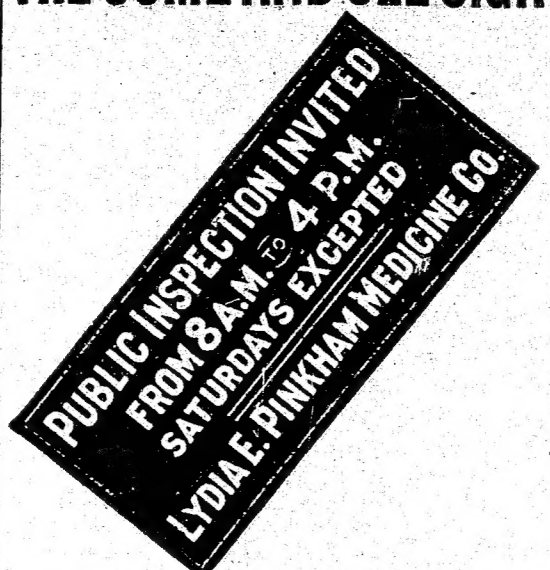

Eustis Bennett was arrested by Deputy Sheriff W. A. Bicknell and brought before the court, Friday, charged with having intoxicating liquors concealed on his person with intent to sell in violation of the law. Bennett is an old offender and was given a sentence of $100 and costs of $15 and sixty days in jail, and for non-payment 60 days additional. He was committed.

Master Arthur Penley has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. A. P. Farnham. P. O. Howard and crew of Livermore Falls, of the Maine Telephone Co., are here at work. They are changing over some lines at Oxford. M. P. Abbott, general manager, was here, Tuesday, on business.

Frances Crockett has been visiting at William Young's. Mr. Young's mother, Mrs. Emma Harding, who has been visiting there, has returned to her home in Franklin, Mass. Hazel White is working for Mr. Young.

Charles E. Freeman has a colt sired by Vasistas that was three months old Sunday and weighed 475 pounds. The colt and mother have been turned out to pasture until this week when Mr. Freeman took them in as he has work for the horse. The colt is a beauty, well built, and will make a fine big black horse.

THE COME AND SEE SIGN

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean? It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above-board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs—without drugs?

Come and See. The women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See. Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any woman asked to write?

Come and See. Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See. Have they really got letters from one hundred thousand women correspondents?

Come and See. Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See. This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it, but the poor doubting, suffering woman, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

Monday's Court Proceedings.

Saturday and Sunday were apparently days of "celebrating" with a goodly number of people. Saturday afternoon after the regular ball game, 2 games were played between two teams from the shop for a quantity of beer or other liquor and the results were manifest about town a few hours later.

Severe arrests were made in the evening on the Rumford road, a few blocks from the headquarters of the crowd or syndicate.

Judge Jones being out of town, court will hold at the clerk's office, court house, South Paris, before Judge Chas. F. Whitman.

The first three that were arraigned were charged with intoxication and disturbing the peace at the Starbird boarding house. These were George Webber, Will Linnell and Jack Hickey. Each pleaded guilty and after some questioning and good advice by the judge and a promise to do better in the future each was given a fine. Webber $3 and costs of $11.88, Linnell the same, and Hickey $3 and costs of $14.13.

Those concerned in the base ball celebration were then taken up. It appears that for two or three weeks two teams have been playing with drinks for stakes. Jailer Farnum was informed of it last week and he kept watch Saturday and found that a keg of ale and other goods had gone to Norway on the afternoon train. Keeping watch of the ball game, after it was over he saw them go up Alpine street. About 9 o'clock he went to the bunch who were camped about the keg in the woods just off the road. There were seven there and all were taken to the county jail.

Alphonse and Arthur Tailon pleaded not guilty. They gave bonds of $100 for their appearance at another hearing to be held before Judge Whitman, Tuesday at 9 o'clock. A. J. Stearns, esq., appeared for them. Richard Bryant pleaded guilty and paid $1 and costs of $14.96. Frank Jones, Luke Corlies and Alphonse Martineau pleaded not guilty and were allowed to go after recognizing in the sum of $100 for their appearance at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

In the case of Daniel Dellea it was taken into consideration that he had a wife and three children to support and a sentence would deprive them. Dellea stated that he would see that a similar thing didn't happen again and recognized in the sum of $200, sentence being suspended during good behavior.

After the return of Judge Jones on the afternoon train Deputy Sheriff W. A. Bicknell brought six more into court on the same charge. They were Bertram Goldthwaite, John King, Luke Monty, Chester Berry, Timothy Harrington, Willie Walker. All pleaded guilty and each paid a fine of $5 and costs of $12.58 and were discharged.

Upper Water Street.

Paul R. Holden is at home from Portland, a little out of health. A. W. Walker & Son of South Paris are doing some cement work at the corn shop.

H. F. Webb of Portland was in town the past week, looking after corn shop interests.

Mrs. Almire Everett had her baby christened last Sunday at the Episcopal Christ church. Mina Jewett was godmother.

The Holden reunion will be held at Crooked river, Sodom, Wednesday, Aug. 19th, if suitable weather; if not, the first fair day. Business meeting at 2 p.m. Picnic dinner.

Byron Allen and a party of young men are stopping at A. P. Farnham's cottage on the shore of North pond.

Mending.

Rents will look much better when mended if they are attended to at once, because the longer they are left the more ragged the edge becomes.

Lay the garment right side down and put the edges of the rent as close together as possible. Cut a piece of mending tissue rather larger than the space that is torn and lay it on the back. Take a piece of thin woolen material the same size as the tissue and as near the color of the cloth as possible, lay this on top of the tissue and when placed in exactly the right position iron with a hot iron until the patch adheres to the garment.

The heat will cause the tissue to dissolve, forming a sort of glue. If the material is of light-weight goods it will be best to use a patch of exactly the same sort of goods, but if the material is heavy, such as is used in men's suits or coats, a lighter patch will be very much better.

A clean cut in heavy materials may be mended by putting the two edges firmly together and basting them to a piece of paper on the right side.

Take a thread and insert the needle about three-eighths of an inch from the edge and carry it between the cloth to about half an inch the other side of the cut and draw the threads through; put the needle in where it came out and carry it to the other side about half an inch beyond the edge in a slightly slanting position.

Continue to do this until the whole rent is darned. Be careful not to pull too tight. Darn in the same way in the opposite direction.

It is difficult to use this method of mending if the edges are the least bit frayed, and on this material it must be done with the greatest of care, using the finest thread and needle possible.

All darns must be pressed when finished. To do this, lay the right side down on the ironing board and on the wrong side lay a damp cloth and iron until perfectly dry.

NORTH WOODSTOCK.

Mrs. Herman Billings visited at Geo. Brown's, Sunday.

Fred Bryant is marketing his potatoes at Rumford Falls.

Sunday School which was organized here the first of July, is progressing finely.

James Billings and wife from East Sumner have been visiting relatives and friends here.

A number from this place attended Cole's circus at Rumford Falls, Friday, and report a very good show.

Dr. King from Portland was called to attend Mrs. Lewis Farnum last Saturday. Mrs. Farnum is having a long, hard sickness and much anxiety is felt by her many friends.

GILEAD.

Blueberries are thick on Bear mountain. The farmers are about done haying, getting quite a good crop.

Mildred Bennett has got her tennis grounds all in good shape.

Rev. Mr. Bruce and son and their wives will return home this week.

Mrs. John Newell has passed away after a long illness of heart trouble.

A goodly number went to Bethel to attend the Democratic rally, Saturday, the 8th.

We understand that the road agent will commence to work out the State money August 17th.

DENMARK.

Mrs. Chas. McIntyre has been on the sick list recently.

Mrs. Frank Jewett is spending a few days at Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Head are entertaining their daughter and little son from Massachusetts.

Mrs. Fred Alexander spent a few days last week visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Trumble, in Bridgton.

Mrs. J. Murphy of South Boston is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Jennie Demings and Mrs. Horace True.

NEWRY.

W. N. Powers is at Grafton this week. A number of people went from this place to Bethel, Saturday evening to the democratic rally.

There was a very interesting ball game at North Newry, Saturday afternoon between Upton and Newry, 9 to 3 in favor of Newry.

Bridal Superstitions.

Married in January's hoar and rime, good things will come if you wait your time. Married in February's sleety weather, life you'll tread in true together.

Married when March winds whine and roar, your home will be on a foreign shore.

Married 'neath April's changeful skies, a checkered path before you lies.

Married when bees o'er May blossoms flit, strangers around your board will sit.

Married in month of roses—June—life will be a long honeymoon.

Married in July, with flowers ablaze, bitter-sweet memories in after days.

Married in August's heat and drowse, lover and friend in your chosen spouse.

Married in golden September's glow, smooth and serene your life will go.

Married when leaves in October thin, toil and hardship for you begin.

Married in veils of November mist, fortune your wedding ring has kissed.

Married in days of December's cheer, love's star shines brighter from year to year.

Hon. D. J. McGillicuddy, Democratic candidate for Congress will address the people on the political issues of the day at Congregational Church, Fryeburg, Friday, Aug. 21, at 8 o'clock. He will also speak at the Town Hall, Brownfield, Saturday, Aug. 22, at 8 o'clock.

Frank Hannaford, who was admitted, Monday, to the Central Maine General Hospital at Lewiston suffering from toxæmia, died last night at the hospital, at 5:55 Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Hannaford is a resident of Dixfield and well known there.

Frank L. Gray and his son of Portland, recently saved a man and woman from drowning who were upset in the ocean. Prin. Gray of Gray's Business College, is well known in this vicinity.

Hon. D. J. McGillicuddy will speak at Robinson Hall, Oxford, Wednesday evening, Aug. 19, at 7:30 o'clock, on the political issues. All invited.

If you want boarders or have rooms to rent, advertise in this paper. See intelligence column.

Executors and Administrators will find it of great convenience in Settling Estates to Open An Account With This Bank

It is the simplest, safest and most convenient way there is: By this method all accounts against the estate can be paid simply by drawing a check for the exact amount and mailing it together with the receipt which is usually demanded in such cases. In this way there are two receipts—the regular receipt and the check. How much safer and more convenient than to carry around the currency and laboriously count out the cash and in many cases not be able to make the exact change.

Capital, Surplus and Profits of more than $92,000.00 give assurance of absolute security and account for our more than $229,000.00 of deposits. This Bank is under the supervision of the United States Government.

THE VERY HIGHEST QUALITY

Good Telephone Form.

The telephone habit has assumed such large proportions that some space should be devoted to the subject of telephone etiquette.

There are so many things that should be done at the telephone and so many more that might be done at the telephone and so many more that might be left undone.

For instance what is the really correct way to call and to answer a call? Central opens the conversation with "Hello" and your answer should come quickly, "277 main, please."

The "please" takes less than a second and "central" does hear it.

According to business rules in a large city (and they are good for social usage, too,) the person who gets your call does not say "Hello," but repeats his or her own number, "277 main," simply, and show you that you have your number.

For instance, in the Western Union offices employees at the telephone do not say "Hello" but respond to a call with "Western Union" and you start directly with your message or conversation. Big department stores use the same system.

If you have called up a store or an office you then say: "I wish to speak with Mr. Jones," and nine cases out of ten the telephone operator will reply: "Who wishes to speak to him?"

Right there the average woman commits her first offense against telephone etiquette by saying sharply: "Never mind; just tell Mr. Jones some one wants to speak to him."

In nearly every business establishment telephone operators are instructed to secure the name of the party on the wire before making connection with extensions or summoning the party named.

It is particularly true in the case of busy men and women who cannot be interrupted by unimportant telephone calls. It is also true in stores where employees are not permitted to answer a call, save when it comes from an important customer.

And this brings us to the question of telephone consideration. How many girls who "just love to talk over the phone" realize how they embarrass young men in stores and offices? More than one courtship has faded through the overzealous use of the telephone by a thoughtless girl.

Employers do not want their young men clerks to waste time talking social matters over the 'phone, and the right sort of young man wants to attend to his employer's affairs during business hours and use the telephone later on.

Another type of woman who makes telephone trouble in office or store is the fussy wife who is forever calling her husband and telling him the most trivial domestic matters or, worse still, convincing herself that he is really at the office and not "tearing round with some horrid man."

Respect your husband's or sweetheart's business hours. If something really important arises, some question which must be settled, like a sudden summons from town or a request to make up a dinner party that night, and your conversation as quickly as possible and do not add to the necessary remarks a long, lingering tale of gossip you have heard during the morning.

In many households where domestics attend the telephone they are also instructed to inquire the name of the person who makes the call and to take messages in case the mistress is out or so engaged at home that she cannot come to the telephone. In this case you either leave your number or word that you will call later. Never argue with a maid as to why her mistress cannot respond to the call. It is as undebated as to question the maid's statement that her mistress is out when you are so informed at the door.

When you are connected with the wrong number do not assume a bored or angry tone. Bear in mind that you have annoyed the party called by mistake and say "Beg pardon" as if you meant it, not as if you had a grievance against the party who dared to answer through the mistake of another.

Do not deliberately wait until your friend is at dinner and then preface your long-winded chat with the remark: "You'll forgive me for calling you just at dinner time, but I knew you'd be at home then and I didn't want to waste my call." This hardly consoles her for chilled soup and lukewarm fish and the reproaches of her family when you finally release her and she returns to the table.

Never talk private affairs over a public telephone, unless you are sure that the booth is sound proof. The girl who quarrels with her sweetheart in the corner drug store and the wife who berates her husband for not coming home on time to dinner, at the grocery where she trades, belong in the same ill-bred class.

And lastly, do not impose upon your host or hostess, either in private home or office. Remember that in most cities each call is charged up to the lessee of the telephone. As a guest in the suburbs do not use calls to town unless you intend to compensate your hostess or at least offer to do so as if you mean it.

FRYEBURG.

"Don't Frighten the Deer."

Randolph Howe, who is at his camp, placed a very naturally mounted deer on a prominent point near the water's edge. Several people came to sight of it and suddenly have almost held their breath for fear of startling him. Mr. Howe has taken several pictures in which the deer poses with fine effect.

Ethel and Hazel Prince are visiting their sister, Mrs. Charles Fox. Clarence Wiley and wife have visited Charles Fox and wife in Lovell.

Dora Chase of New York has been visiting Lena Howe and other friends. Charlotte Pike and sister Catherine have been spending a few days with Minnie Pike in Cornish.

C. O. Warren and family are enjoying camp life at Lovell's pond, occupying the fine camp of the Misses Walker.

Olive Swan was taken suddenly ill. A physician was called and advised her removal to Eekley Ballard's. She hopes to return to her own home soon.

Hon. W. W. Towle and C. O. Warren, esq., with other gentlemen, made the trip from Boston to Fryeburg via Centre Harbor. Mrs. Towle and Betty have also arrived. The family is at the old Warren house on Portland street.

Hon. Edward Lewis Osgood of Hopedale, Mass., has been appointed administrator of the estate of his late sister, Francis Caroline Osgood. Miss Osgood left a will (executed on July 8, 1892) and in it appointed as her executrix her sister, Kate Putnam Osgood, but the latter declined to serve, and as a consequence her brother has been appointed. The will bequeathed the testator's property to Kate Putnam Osgood.

Herbert Hodson and family have been at his camp at Osipsee Lake.

Hon. Warren W. Towle has been at his old home for a rest and outing.

Hon. Albion A. Perry, ex-mayor of Somerville, Mass., has returned to Fryeburg.

Victor Hutchins, eldest son of Mrs. Mary Hutchins, has enlisted and is now in Co. 107, at Ft. Preble.

Mrs. Richard Chase (Leah Barker) has moved from Brooklyn to join her mother at Annie Webster's.

Rev. Mr. Gray, pastor of the First Universalist church, Somerville, Mass., has been spending his vacation in Fryeburg. Mr. Gray and wife have a cottage at Pinehurst.

Walter Mansfield is busy preparing for the opening at the corn packing factory. Mr. Mansfield has been manager for the Baxter Bros. for several years and is an excellent man for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bennett called on Mrs. Lewis Fickett.

The Aztecos Grange fair was a success, $90.10 being taken.

Edward Travers was up from Errol with a load of supplies for the College Farm.

Mrs. Henry Bird has been sick. Her sister, Maud Flint, helped care for her, also Hannah Fickett.

Lloyd Flint has been working for his uncle, Benj. Flint. Claude Linnell is working for Lewis Leavitt.

Mrs. Henry Bird's children stayed with their grandfather, George Flint, during their mother's sickness.

Fred W. Noyes and Charles F. Lowe of Gorham, N. H., were up on a fishing trip. Their wives came along as far as the Brown farm and stayed there while the men folks were up river.

J. W. Parker and wife started from their home in Portland, Wednesday, July 29th, in their auto, went to the Balsams, Dixville, Notch, N. H., then came up to the Berlin Mills House to supper then back to Dummer, N. H., to spend the night.

Mrs. Henry Bird is so as to sit up a little.

Roy Linnell is working for Arthur Littlehale.

Owen Crimmins went to Colebrook, Tuesday, by way of Diamond pond. A party of four sportsmen from Vermont are stopping at Quincy Davis'.

Dan Annis' team ran away threw him out and hurt his shoulder quite badly.

Albin Anderson has finished work at the College Farm and has returned to Boston.

The Tip-Top House Rejuvenated.

When the fire of June 18th had swept the Summit House of Mount Washington, no one dared hope that the former hospitality of the place would cheer visitors this season. Letters from everywhere expressed regret over the situation that seemed without remedy.

But the impossible has been accomplished. Appreciating the loyalty of all mountaineers to the Summit House, its management sought to provide shelter this season and defying odds that at first appeared insurmountable the old Tip-Top House has been made to renew its youth. Renovated and furnished it is claiming an interest this summer as intense as when its doors were opened to the public in 1853.

Each day brings guests here who inspect this pioneer of all tip-top houses and recall stories they have heard, perhaps from their father or mother who had ascended the summit half a century ago.

The old Tip-Top House outwardly is unchanged. While it receives no permanent guests it serves lunches throughout the day to its transient visitors. The burning of the Summit House was a tragedy, but the bright side of the calamity is that it is permitting tourists to live in the very atmosphere of the old Tip-Top House enriched with all its history and traditions. Ex-President Franklin Pierce slept in this house as have many of the great celebrities of the country. If its stones could speak it could fill volumes; comedy and tragedy, the grave and gay would mark the narrative.

When the house was recently opened a dancing party was given for the employees.

Care of Horses in Hot Weather.

A great many horses are laid up again this summer with sore shoulders. This can be remedied in a large measure with sense and care.

A good horse-collar is the main part of the harness and it should be of the very best kind and fit the animal's neck perfectly.

The collar should be kept clean at all times and the horse's shoulders well washed and brushed daily.

Much dust and dirt arise in the fields and on the roads at this season and these are caught and held on the moist and sweaty shoulders and collar, there to form hard lumps and ridges.

Every time the collar is put on the horse it should be examined for these lumps and ridges. If any are found they should be carefully brushed and rubbed away.

After each day's work, especially in warm weather, bathe and clean the shoulders with a mixture of warm water, salt and soda.

Hot water is one of the best known natural agents for relieving soreness due to sprains, bruises, and excessive pressure of the animal body. Salt and soda are healing and disinfecting agents.

A little alum and tannic acid, the juice from the bark or leaves of oak or willow trees, will heal and toughen the skin and should be applied with warm water.

Regularity of work counts in everything, and especially in the handling of animals.

The horse that is worked regularly acquires strong muscles and tough shoulders.

Many farmers allow their work horses to remain idle for several days or even weeks at a time, and then immediately put them into hard service.

A horse that has been idle for several days should be given very light and moderate work for the first day or two so that the muscles and skin will regain their strength and toughness.

It is a better plan to arrange some work for the horses daily. In this way their bodies never become soft and weak, hence they seldom become ill or injured and are always in training for efficient service.

Sleep Question Has No Regular or Set Rules.

There can be no hard and fast rules set for the length of time one should sleep. All depends on the person and temperament.

We are told that brain workers and those of a nervous nature need more sleep than others, yet some of the greatest thinkers of the world sleep but four or five hours a night with no ill effects.

A good rule to follow is to sleep until one awakes refreshed, whether that is in five hours or ten.

If it be well to sleep until refreshed it is not well to indulge in the habit of turning over for another nap. Get up as soon as you awake and you will not be sluggish and stupid for several hours of the morning.

Don't be one of those persons who says with an air, "I never sleep in the daytime." If you have any regard for your looks and health you will take a short rest each day, even though you think you cannot possibly sleep. It won't be long before you are saying, "I believe I just dropped off," and will feel better and brighter for it the rest of the day and evening.

Notice to Horse Owners.

Has your horse a blemish or any disease of the feet? Your money back if a $1.00 bottle of Morrison's Liniment fails to cure. We also guarantee a 50-cent bottle to prove satisfactory. At all druggists and dealers. Beware of cheap imitations.

Farm Buildings Burned.

"Mrs. Emma Stevens' buildings at Stuart's Corner, North Harrison, burned Sunday night at about 8 o'clock," said Frank Eastman of the Harrison stage as he drove into the village, Monday morning. The house, barn and sheds all burned. It is supposed the fire caught from a defective chimney. The insurance was $800. The household furniture was saved but the farming tools were lost.

CURE RHEUMATISM NOW.

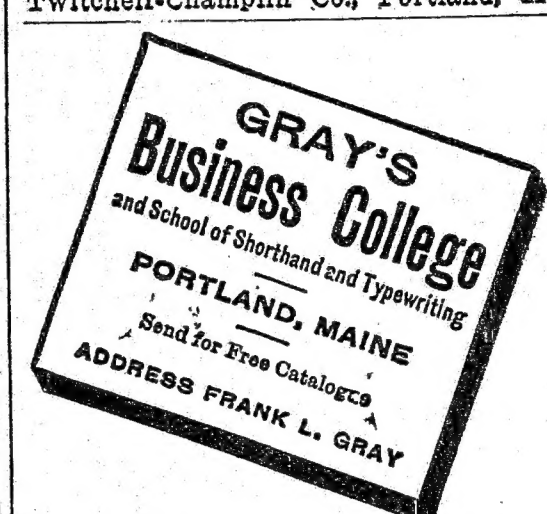

This is the Best Time to Get Rid of the Disease.

Of all seasons in the year none is better than the present for the treatment and cure of rheumatism. While Neuralgic Anodyne is an unfailing cure for rheumatism at any season of the year, it will do good twice as quickly, this month.

The Anodyne has a peculiar action, soaking through the pores of the skin to the aching tissues and throbbing nerves so that it does far more good than any ordinary local application. At the same time, a small dose is taken internally which soothes and quiets the whole nervous system, and helps seal the Uric Acid from the blood.

Neuralgic Anodyne is so successful in curing rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, toothache, and all nervous and muscular pains, that dealers everywhere are authorized to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

A large-sized bottle costs 25c. The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.
